[] Volunteers Burn Annals of Valour 3

When have we seen such a memorable first of April on this side as this year The date is full of events which will have a wide reaching effect on the whole country. The first of April has seen an end put to the popular volunteer force in favour of'a territorial army which, as mentioned a week ago, is universally condemned as a blunder on the part of Mr Haldane, the War Minister. It has seen the beginning of the greatest reform in the criminal law since prisoners were allowed free counsel ment has been received with very mixed jocularly, while others have given angry vent to their emotions. In the early hours of the morning of All Fools' Day two men carrying a coffin, escorted by about fifty men of the Fifth West Middlesox Volum teer Corps, some in uniform and seve re with rifles, set out from the headquarters of the regiment, at St. John's Wood, and marched to the Duke of Cambridge's statue, n Whitchall. There the men formed up and the coffin was placed at the foot of the statue and a wreath was laid on it. The coffin bore the following inscription : -

"In memory of the volunteer forces killed by act of Parliament March 31, 1908, after fifty years' faithful service. Missed, 1744 but not wanted."

Such a large crowd gathered round the mourners that the police found it necessary to interfere. As the volunteers refused to take the coffin away their ring leader was arrested and was conveyed with the coffin to Canton Row police station. No chargewas preferred against the man, but the coffin was broken up.

A mock funeral of a similar character 2123 was arranged by the members of the Buchan battalion of Aberdeen volunteers at Frazerburg. The volunteers drove ou to a hill about eight miles from the tow and then, with pipes playing, marched to the top, where a coffin containing the records of the brigade, with a number contemporary newspapers, was solemnly interred. Many other mock funerals are reported, but in most quarters the com manding officers merely dismissed their battalions in sheer disgust.

> The first day of the territorial army's existence was marked by the swearing in of the recruits in all parts of the country. but not, so far as can be ascertained, in any great numbers. The final position o the new army will not be known till June 30, however, as the men are given till then to decide whether they will re-enlist in

REFORMED LAW. Regarding the other notable event referred to, from now onward every person convicted of crime by a jury at Quarter Sessions, at the Old Bailey or at the ssizes has a Tight to appeal on any law point that arises at his trial, and the right to appeal on the ground of misdirection or on the ground that the verdict is wrong, with the consent of the judge, or, if that is refused, the consent of the Court of Criminal Appeal. The newly created court consists of eight judges of the King's Bench Division, with the Chief Justice as president, and it is a singular fact that the judges who constitute the Court were al opposed to its creation. The Chief Justice led the opposition to it in the House of

BROKEN-DOWN BYSTEM This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (for they are all most aumberless) its symptoms aromach thousand the more prominent being elecplessness, score of prostration or measuress, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vigour— VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to throw of these muchid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly accured by a course of the cele-

Lords, and not only did he represent the opinion of the common law judges, but also that of almost every Bench of Quarter

Sessions in the kingdom. It is, however, a well known fact that lawyers are the most conservative people in the country, and that they oppose every legal reform, but when it has become a law they carry it out most loyally. The judges were equally opposed to the creation of the civil appeal court, which was introduced by the Judicature Act of 1876; but the best proof of its necessity and of its success is that it is always in arrear. There has also come into operation an act which makes the City of London for rating and other public purposes one parish. Hitherto within the square mile which is ruled by the Lord Mayor and the Corporation there have been as many as 114 parishes. Each had a staff of its own for rate collection and so forth, and al together the officials occupled in such matters within the square mile numbered 250. Under the new arrangement there will be only twenty-one. One of the parishes,

Many of the parishes bear quaint names. such as St. Andrew, Hubbard St. Andrew, Undershaft St. Andrew by the Wardrobe, St. Benet Sherebog, St. Christopher le OFFICES in BANK BUILDINGS, Top Crockery Ware, Electro-plate St. Martin Outwich and St. Peter le Poor. How there came to be such a large number of parishes in so small an area no one quite

Some have been demolished within our own time, but the system of division remained in force until April 1, when it finally disappeared. The City is always adverse to changes and it is easy to understand why no other square mile of land in the whole world has had a greater influence upon history—not even the Seven Hills upon which Rome stands. Even the power of the Popes in the greatest period of the Papacy was not much superior to that of the Lord Mayor in the height of London's power, for the Lord Mayor represented the citizens of London and they stood for the opinion of England, besides which London controlled the money market. No King could go to war without having London on his side... The income of the City companies has been calculated at E650,000 a year. The Corporation is wealthy enough to give its chief magistrate a salary of £10,000. For past interest and present wealth the City of London has no peer, nor any other city show an equally famous municipal record ()f late, it is true, its system of government has lost something of its old lustre, but if this rating reform is the commencement of a general overhauling that system may last for centuries longer, retaining its picturesque cléments while conforming at the same time so far as actual business good to the standards of to day. THE OPIUM TRADE.

PERHAPS those who can see only perfect beatitude and unparelleled felicity in existence under the Crown Colony form of Government will hail the result of the anti-opium fronzy in Great as determined a stand as would the sing the happiness of Crown Colonists. On this opium question we have always sought to keep an open mind. At the risk of offending many of our good cloudiness and 80.8 of synshine. There friends who conscientionaly believe that were 11.150 inches of rain. opium is not the pernicious drug it is represented to be we have declared time after time, if proof could be Communications agree, says a contempor of silk goods which were valued at $7. But we were not so foolish as to say that a great industry which was question of the open door in Manchuria and giving employment to tens of thousand should be swept out of existence in a day. Vested rights in regard to opium have and no suspicion can lie against her of grown up under the protection, it may even fairly be said, with the encourage ment, of the British Government -We-realised and did not refrain from giving emphatic expression to our principle of equal opportunities for all."opinion that the extinction of the opium trade, if it were shown to be really desirable would have to be brought little business dislocation and suffering ble, and it is a serious mistake to neglect as possible. Moreover we claimed that no steps which could not be easily the purchase of the drug in the country. This seems to us a calm and rational: one which should commend itself even to those who are quite satisfied that the Gaul on Dec. 31, 1907, was the least since habit is injurious. As a rule British people respect the right of property. But, because we happen to be a Crown Colony it has suddenly been borne upon us that our property is not safe if loud-voiced fanatics and bewildered majority which mildly 679 accepts noisy assertion for proof, car gain a cheap reputation for generosity by giving it away. The magnanimous British Government, with one eye upon the necessity for checking the dwindling of its majority, "accepts" a proposal which involves throwing our finances into terrible disorder and may, if the intention of stopping the local trade summarily is carried out, land us in interminable litigation. REUTER'S SERVICE. THE ANTI-OPIUM CRUSADE.

LONDON, May 7. Mr Johnson, in the House of Commone, moved a resolution urging the Government to terminate as speedily as possible the system of licensing opium dens in Crown Colonies, especially in Hongkong, the Straits and Caylon, Major Seely, Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, accepted the motion because the time had come to take a decisive step forward. In regard to the Straits and the Malay States, he, expected the report of the Commission early in the Autumn, but he promised the ultimate extinction of the opium abuse there.

-In reference to Hongkong, Major Seely read a telegram despatched on the 4th inst., to Sir Frederick Lugard informing H. E. that the Government had decided to close the densas they recognised that it was essential to maintain the standard set by the Chinese.

Sir Edward Grey said that in regard to the criticisms on Shanghai not closing all the dens, he must point out that Shanghai was an international settlement, and that the decision rested with the ratepayers. He would use every influence to ensure the Municipality carrying out the intention and ending the traffic in two years. It was not fair to contrast the action of the Municipality with that of the native cities, where the dens still sell opium although they are closed. The Government of the United States had been asked the date and place for the meeting of the proposed Commission but our action would be quite independent,

Sir Edward gave a tribute to the good results attained so quickly by the Chinese Government, which he thoughtwas undertaking the most grave task possible by any Government, and he desired to say that the Chinese should feel that we are sympathising with the nation, and wish to aid it.

Meeting at Hongkong.

Chan Kang Yu, Chan Chak Yu, and Yang Sai Ngam, who were appointed by the Canton-Hankow Railway Company, among twenty-four other firms or persons, to collect funds on the Company's account and who have issued shares which the Company would not recognise, called meeting yesterday at which persons who had applied and were granted shares by them were invited to attend. The meeting was held at the premises of the Sze Yap Steamship Navigation Company, Des Voux Road, and some hundreds of persons were present. Chan Kang Yu explained to those present that they were acting for the Railway Company under a distinct stipulation that all money received from persons to whom shares have been granted would only be handed over to the Railway Company on its registration at Poking. The fact that they refused to entertain the request of the representatives who came down in order to take possession of the funds in their hands was because the Company was then not registered in the Board of Commerce. Since, however, they had noticed in the "Chinese 87 yards. Mail" (Wah Tat Yat Po) an advertisement purporting to have been inserted by order of the Railway Company to the effect that the Company had been duly registered at Peking, and they had instructed Mr Tso to write to Canton and ask the Company to send its man down to take care of the money. #### The great strides which have been made in the construction of mechanical devices for the playing of a piano by the veriest novice is evidenced in the Auto-pianos offered for sale by the Robinson Piano Company. The auto-piano is distinct triumph. Anyone can produce brilliant work by it, the time, touch and expression being controlled by the person playing, but the auto-piano does the rest. All the mechanism is internal and hidden from might, with the exception of the perforated roll with controls the action of the keys, and this is only seen through a glass window which may be closed in so desired. The pedals fold out of sight and the stops for speed and expression may also he hidden when the mechanism is not in use, so that the auto-piano appears exactly the same as any other pinno. The auto-pinnos offered by The Robinson Piano Company were built at the English factories of Messrs Kastner and Company, under the direct supervision of Mr Robinson, Managing Director, who has had 33 years experience of the trade in the East and is therefore well qualified to give authoritative directions as to the preparation of pianos for the Eastern climate. And it is claimed that every attention has been devoted to this important particular, and that the auto-pianes will give every satisfaction throughout summer or winter. securely fastened together with screws. Messrs Fraser and Co's Share Circular dated May 1 stated that during the week the market in Singapore had been dull and the volume of business transacted small.

Our Japanese contemporaries, says the "Kobe Herald" of April 30, announce the failure of a firm which for many years has occupied a place in the front rank of foreign business houses in Kobe and Yokohana. We believe the news is The Wesleyan Mission at Shiu Kwan premature. It is explained that the firm has been in financial difficulties through the failure of two important Japanese houses. This much is unfortunately correst but there is still ground to hope that will be discovered.

Words cannot express the gratitude

age, and had never had anything the skin until four an eruption broke ing and blisters, which would break and run matter. I took her to a doctor, and he pronounced it to be eczema of a very bad form. He treated her, but instead of being checked, the disease spread. It showed itself on her back. and then quickly spread upwords unt the whole of her head was affected, and all her hair had to be cut off. The pain she suffered was excruciating, and what with that and the heat and tingling her life was almost unbearable. She became run down in health, and at times was very feverish, languid, and drowsy, and occasionally she was delirious. Her nerves were in such a low state that she could not bear to be left alone. In spite of the cold weather she would insist on having her bedroom window open, and would lean out on the window-sill. She did not have a proper hour's sleep for many nights. The second ductor we tried afforded her just as little relief as the first, and her just as little relief as the first, and I really do not know what we should have done if we had not read how Cutleura cured a similar case. I purchased Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills, and before the Cintment was three-quarters finished every trace of the disease was gone. It really seemed like magic. Her hair is coming on nicely, and I still apply the Cuticura Ointment as I find it increases the growth wonderfully. Mrs. T. W. Hyde, 1, Ongar Place, Brentwood, Essex, Mar. 8, 1907."
